72 DEAD IN BRITISH MINE BLASTS

WOULD PROTECT SMALL NATIONS AGAINST NAZIS

Winston Churchill
Offers Plan for Armed Peace
MANY MENACED

London, May 10.—(AP)—Britain's rebellious Tory, Winston Churchill, stepped forward today as the nation's new champion of international idealism and offered a plan for armed peace based upon League of Nations principles.

The fighting wartime chief of British sea forces, in a speech at Manchester last night, touched off a country-wide campaign to whip together a non-party movement dedicated to forming a 10-power entente with the league covenant as its guiding star.

Stand By Covenant
The Manchester gathering was the first of a series under the guidance of the powerful League of Nations union calling on the world—in Churchill's words—to "arm and stand by the covenant."

Churchill said he would like to see France and Britain "go to all the smaller states that are menaced that are going to be devoured one by one by Nazi tyranny, and say to them, 'We aren't going to help you if you aren't going to help yourselves. Are you prepared to take special service in defense of the covenant?'"

The states he listed as possible members of the entente were Yugoslavia, Rumania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Greece and Turkey, with the way left open for aid from Soviet Russia in the event of war.

Italy May Cooperate
He expressed the belief that Italy also might cooperate eventually in such an alliance, adding "If we could get as far as that, the danger would be removed, perhaps for our lifetime, and the United States would signal her encouragement and sympathy."

Court Hearing on Injunction Starts

A hearing on litigation by manufacturers and distributors of soft drinks against the City of Kankakee was in progress today before Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter.

Recently the soft drink manufacturers and distributors obtained from Judge Hunter a temporary injunction restraining the city from enforcing a new ordinance licensing them.

The ordinance in question provided for licenses fees ranging from $100 for manufacturers, plus $25 for each delivery truck in excess of two, down to $15 for retailers.

The city then filed a motion to dissolve the injunction and the hearing today was on this request.

The city is represented by Attorneys Victor N. Cardos and John Holland and the soft drink manufacturers and distributors by Attorney Eva L. Minor.

To the widower Isaac goes one third of the real estate. The remainder is to be divided equally between daughters Mrs. Myrtle Tate and Mrs. Margaret Babcock. First Trust & Savings bank is named executor.

Suit to Test Validity of New District

A test case as to the validity of the new community high school district No. 306 at Grant Park was filed for the circuit court today.

The suit is in the name of Fred Urruh, a taxpayer of the district which was formed in May of 1937 following a special election, versus Harry A. Cole, H. N. Dennis, P. W. Love, John Roschbrock and Charles Hensberg, directors of the district.

Called a complaint in quo warranto, the suit was filed by Attorneys Elmer C. Wilson and Fred R. Smith Jr. and, as is provided by law in such cases, State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro is a party to the suit.

The suit calls upon the members of the board of education of the district to show by what reason they hold office and exercise the functions of the office.

The school district recently issued bonds in the amount of $58,000 for expansion of the school building. The district is represented by Attorney Armen R. Blanke.

CONSCRIPTION LOTTERY PLAN; ARMED FORCES

Thirteen Million
Would Be Called in First Draft

AGES 21 TO 31

San Francisco, May 10.—(UP)—Details of a national lottery plan for conscripting citizens into the armed forces of the United States in wartime were worked out today by U. S. war department officials and army officers.

Thirteen million men between 21 and 31 years of age would be summoned in the first draft, military officials disclosed.

Colonel V. J. O'Kellier and Major Lewis B. Hershey, both of the army general staff in Washington, headed a group of army authorities and army reserve specialists who met here yesterday for a four-day conference.

Major Hershey said the draft would be conducted by an independent government agency, permitting the armed forces to concern themselves entirely with the enemy.

Selective Service Board
The major said the project called for setting up a selective service board headquarters in Washington with division offices in the states, and sub-divisions in counties.

Future conscripts, he said, would be divided into four classifications: those ready to go, those with a reasonable reason for delay, those with dependents, and those unfit or exempt as office holders.

When the men were selected, it was explained, each would be given a number.

Lottery procedure will be followed, with numbers being drawn from a drum in Washington to determine the order of the draft.

Arrest Motorists in Two Accidents

Two motorists were arrested yesterday following accidents involving vehicles which they were operating.

Henry Thies of 148 North Harrison avenue, was jailed at 8 o'clock Monday evening by Sergeant John Powell on a charge of drunkenness.

Thies was driving a Dillon Coal company truck west on Court street near the schuyler avenue intersection when it sideswiped one headed in the opposite direction and operated by Mrs. E. L. Piper of 642 North Indiana avenue.

Thies turned the corner and sideswiped another auto, that of Paul Hubert of Haywood, Ill., who was driving north on this thoroughfare. No one was hurt but all three machines were damaged.

Sebastian Socco of 2717 South Princeton avenue, Chicago, was arrested by Officer Orval Finch on a charge of failing to stop for a through street yesterday at Harrison and Oak streets when his car crashed with one driven by John Kukuck of 416 South Wildwood avenue. The latter signed a complaint against Socco and the case was continued until Wednesday.

Eight-year-old boy to Face Holdup Charge

Jacksonville, Ill., May 10.—(AP)—An eight-year-old boy, Beebe Hayes, was seized by police after a man reported he was held up by a "baby gunman" in the business district.

Policeman Homer Nunes said young Hayes accosted B. McElhatton, a painter, last night and ordered him to "put up your hands." McElhatton said at first he thought the boy was "playing a joke."

Later, Policeman Nunes found the boy seated in an automobile. Nunes said when he approached, the boy took a .38 calibre pistol from his pocket and threatened him. The officer wrested the pistol from him. The Hayes boy was held on an open charge, pending arraignment in juvenile court.

Complete 114 Miles of New Power Lines

Wabesa, May 10.—(RN Special)—Construction of the 109-mile rural electrification project in Iroquois, Ford, McLean, Vermilion and Livingston counties is going along rapidly in some sections, it was reported today.

The 114 miles of line west and north of Paxton will be completed before June 1, it is expected. All poles and wires are in and installation of transformers has begun.

Mapping of additional line is nearing completion, it was stated, but rights-of-way must be secured before construction is begun. The Eastern Illinois Power Cooperative officials asked that land owners cooperate by providing such rights-of-way.

Special Election for Baker School District May 31

A special election for residents of the Baker school district No. 110, just east of Kankakee, will take place May 31 on the proposition of increasing tax rates.

It has been proposed that the rate for educational purposes be increased from 1 per cent to 1.1 per cent and that the rate for building purposes be increased from 1/2 of 1 per cent to 1 per cent.

According to directors of the school, population of the district has increased so that it was necessary to hire another teacher this season and expansion of the school is necessary. The present income is not sufficient, they say.

The election will be held at the schoolhouse from 4 o'clock in the afternoon to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Senior Class Play Tomorrow Night

The senior class of Kankakee high school will present "Prize Piece," a three act comedy, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium.

Coached by Frank Weller, the play concerns the efforts of a young man bent upon breaking into the movies, but much to his dislike, the three pigs he has as chosen instead of him.

Eleven students have parts in the production. These include June Carter, Lois Anderson, Betty Topping, Dorothy Miner, Eleanor Erickson, Norma LaRoche, Joanne Sellers, Bob Elker, Clarence Johnston, Edward Bade and Clarence Nelson.

Oppose Increase of Pullman Fares

Washington, May 10.—(UP)—Railroad regulatory commissions of five states filed a brief with the interstate commerce commission today opposing any increase in Pullman fares and charging the Pullman company seeks an increase "to enable it to pay dividends."

The brief was filed jointly by the commissions of Idaho, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota and Utah. The Pullman company has asked the ICC for authority to raise its rates 10 per cent.

"The present rates—some as low as normal times yielded generous profits to the petitioner," the brief said. "Inability to pay dividends now."

The depression affects all classes of business. All must expect to share in the business losses which result from it. Furthermore, it cannot be ended by a general raising of prices."

Advocates Uniting of All Protestants

Utrecht, The Netherlands, May 10.—(AP)—Leading churches of the world undertook today to build a world council uniting all Protestant churches for a common attack on world problems.

Delegates from 20 countries and 32 denominations went into the first session of a three-day executive meeting to start drafting a constitution for the proposed council.

The conference was opened formally last night in Utrecht's massive Presbyterian church with an appeal for unity by Dr. John R. Mott of New York, chairman of the International Missionary Council.

PARTIAL VISION FOR BABY HOPE OF PHYSICIANS

Believe Operation
Halted Spread of Cancerous Growth

FINE CONDITION

Chicago, May 10.—(UP)—Six-week-old Helaine Judith Colan apparently was recovering today from an operation which medical authorities believed had halted spread of a dread cancerous eye growth and paved the way for her to save at least part of her vision.

A week ago her parents had abandoned hope, certain that she would die or be doomed to a life of blindness. Yesterday her left eye was removed during a 13-minute operation which as council of ten eminent medical specialists, holding in its hands the power of life and death, had decreed was her only chance for life.

May Save Right Eye
Today, Dr. Robert H. Good, who performed the operation, said the baby still has the sight of her right eye. He and Dr. Carlisle B. Rogers, brain specialist of the Garfield Park Community hospital, agreed that there was a "good chance" that at least partial vision of the remaining eye may be saved by X-ray or radium treatments.

They said a small tumor already has attacked the eye. If the disease has progressed too far, that eye also will have to be removed, but the physicians said there was hope that it can be treated. Dr. Good said the left eyeball had been turned over to Dr. Edward V. L. Brown, eye specialist of the Billings Memorial hospital. He planned to place it in a fixing solution for two days before he examines it. A conference of eight X-ray specialists then will make final decision whether the right eye can be treated.

Condition Normal
Attendees at the Garfield hospital, where the baby is confined, reported early today that her condition was normal.

"The baby is resting comfortably," a bulletin issued at 7:30 a. m. (est.) said. "Her condition has shown no noticeable change. Temperature 99.4. Pulse 164. Respiration 48."

Dr. Good said the baby stood the operation well and lost only half a teaspoonful of blood.

"She is in fine condition," he said.

Attorney Samuel Hoffman, family spokesman, said the baby's mother, Estelle, 23, who had been in a state of collapse, had returned to normal. The father, Dr. Herman Colan, 30-year-old dentist, said he and his wife were "eternally grateful" to the physicians who aided them.

May Benefit Others
"We hope our experience will benefit others," he said.

The specialists upon whom the life or death decision rested, conferred an hour and 15 minutes before they voted unanimously to operate.

Remove Eye to Save Baby

Accepting a jury's decision to operate, Dr. Herman Colan (left) father of baby Helaine Colan, is shown shaking hands with Dr. Robert H. Good, who was chosen by the jury to perform the operation in a desperate attempt to save the infant from death or blindness caused by glioma, a cancerous eye growth. Immediately following the conference, Dr. Good removed the baby's left eye in a Chicago hospital. Between the father and surgeon stands Attorney Samuel Hoffman, spokesman for the parents.

Four Certified For County Welfare Job

Four Kankakee county women have been certified by the state department of public welfare as eligible for the new position of Kankakee county superintendent of public welfare.

They are Miss Leonie L. Drolet, 293 East Court street; Mrs. Annie Laura Burns, Aroma Park road; Mrs. Frances J. McFue, 211 South Washington avenue; and Mrs. Wilhelmina Lewis, 515 East Indiana avenue, Mokena.

According to announcement late this afternoon from Springfield these women have passed oral and written examinations given them by the state welfare department.

From the four a selection will be made by the county board, probably at the June meeting. The announcement from Springfield came too late for today's board meeting.

When selected, the new superintendent will have charge of old age pensions and other state relief funds expended in this county.

For Iroquois county, the state welfare department has certified Mrs. Margaret A. Keller and Frank O. Weber as eligible.

Boy Who Was Center of Bitter Custody Fight is Summoned

Chicago, May 10.—(AP)—Three-year-old Donald Horst, central figure in an abduction that developed into a custody dispute last summer, is dead.

The boy died at the Lutheran Memorial hospital last night following an operation for appendicitis. He was taken there May 5 by his foster parents, Otto and Martha Horst, and underwent the operation performed by Dr. John A. Rose.

It was Dr. Rose who attended the birth of Donald to Mrs. Lydia Nelson Levin, and arranged for the baby to be given to Mrs. Horst, wife of a well-to-do manufacturer.

With the Horsts, the boy had everything he desired. Then on Aug. 3, 1937, Donald was snatched from Mrs. Horst's arms by Mrs. Lavin and John Regan, who, she said, was Donald's father. On September 1, Donald was placed in the permanent custody of the Horsts by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki.

49 ARE KNOWN INJURED; MANY ARE ENTOMBED

Two Violent Gas Explosions in Derbyshire, England

RESCUERS BUSY

Duckmanton, Derbyshire, England, May 10.—(AP)—Seventy-two miners were killed, 49 were known to be injured and a number of others were entombed in the wrecked workings today after two violent gas explosions in the Markham coal mine.

While rescue squads searched underground for trapped victims, Captain H. F. S. Crookshank, minister for mines, informed the house of commons of the disaster.

Through grim coincidence, the question of danger from explosions in mines was up before commons as a result of Ellis Smith, laborer, asking what was being done to prevent repetition of such blasts as the one last July at the Brynno coal mine at Stoke-on-Trent when 21 miners lost their lives.

Seek Identity of Bodies
Sobbing women gathered around the pithead as the dead and injured were brought to the surface. Scenes were particularly grievous in the little mortuary where wives and relatives sought to identify the bodies.

One woman found that four members of her family were still in the blasted workings, their fate undetermined.

Scores of rescuers, stripped to the waist, fought through roof falls toward the trapped men. Police broadcast a call for oxygen.

Rescuers with gas masks sealed up one section of the pit to prevent gas from seeping through to the trapped miners.

The second explosion occurred shortly after 8 a. m. while injured from the first blast were being brought out.

The first blast about 6 a. m. caused heavy roof falls, and the nearby hospital was told to expect up to 100 casualties.

A dull rumbling followed by flashes of flame sent clouds of dust signalled the first blast.

Huddled in Heaps
More than 100 rescue workers had been struggling to reach a number of men who were reported to have been entombed alive, but tonight the company issued a statement, causing the shafts to fall in, the mine were dead.

Some of the victims were found huddled in heaps. Their clothing had been ripped off by the explosions which sent flames roaring through the workings.

In the nearby village of Duckmanton, virtually every home lost

Momence Trailer Dweller Jailed

John Meyer, 58, laborer who resides in a house trailer near Momence, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Jesse Burton on a charge of larceny. Today he was held in the county jail.

The complaint leading to the arrest was issued at the request of Lloyd L. Langdock, farmer who was a neighbor of Meyer.

Langdock claims that Meyer stole from him chickens, articles of clothing, a watch and tools.

Kiwanis Club Acts to Get Forest Preserve For County

A committee to investigate a proposal that 46,000 acres of land in Kankakee and Iroquois county be purchased by the federal government for a forest preserve and game refuge was appointed at yesterday's Kiwanis luncheon.

President J. E. Robertson appointed on the committee Vernon Mead, Broom, John H. Beckers, Sidney Ponsie, Frank Reuter and J. O. Ginger.

The proposal was laid before the club by Sidney Fousie, president of the Kankakee County Sportsman's club, to which it had been referred by the Kankakee Valley association.

The proposal is to set aside the acreage in the southeastern part of Kankakee county and the northern part of Iroquois county, a good deal of which is scrub forest and sand, for the game refuge, forest preserve and recreational spot.

The club also instructed Secretary Ed Strama to write to H. L. Kellogg, engineer of the Illinois State planning commission, to express the club's interest in the plan.

School Awards
W. A. Schneider was named a committee of one to make arrangements for the annual award of cups to two Kankakee high school graduates who are outstanding for leadership school representation and scholarship in their class. The awards will be made in conjunction with the coming graduation exercises.

A. W. Merrill, new power engineer for the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, former president of the Lions club of Joliet, was received as a new Kiwanian.

The matter of the club furnishing half of the judges and clerks for the special election by the park board on the proposed swimming pool was referred to President J. E. Robertson and Secretary Strama to take action in conjunction with Rotary club.

CONFESION OF IMPOTENCE

You can get an idea of the queer kind of thinking that desperado people resort to by noticing that a league of nations commission is now formally considering the question of neutral zones in wartime for the protection of children.

This proposition, advanced by a well-meaning delegation from Rumania, would have such neutral zones established whenever war broke out. By international agreement, the zones would not be bombed, sprayed by poison gas, or visited by any other of the distinguishing features of civilized warfare.

To these zones would be moved, en masse, all the children from the potential battle areas of the warring countries.

Now the practical objections to this are so many and so obvious that it is hardly necessary to mention them.

The really significant thing is that the mere fact that the proposal was made indicates how desperate the human race is growing under the spur of its own failure to become civilized, and how fuzzy its thinking is under such circumstances.

No man who pretends to be civilized can look on the bombing of cities, the wholesale destruction of non-combatants, the indiscriminate attacks on densely-populated districts, without feeling the most profound horror.

But to suggest, by the way of cure, that we elaborately erect neutral zones and transport children to them by the means of thousands is to confess our utter impotence to solve a problem which we ourselves created.

For the way to stop this horror, after all, is simple: stop bombing cities.

No child was ever killed by a bomb that hit an infantry platoon, an airport, a dockyard, an arsenal, a fort, a barracks or a battleship.

Children are killed only when the generals send their bombers out to attack the districts where the children live.

It is not expecting too much of the generals to ask that they fight soldiers instead of children. After all, their descent into barbarism has not even the saving excuse of practicality; no war and no battle has yet been won by the bombing of children. By continuing the practice, all generals convict themselves of unfitness to inhabit a civilized world.

And unless we can think of something better than neutral zones, we convict ourselves along with them.

TO CHARM OR NOT TO CHARM

It's all a shade confusing about Tahiti.

It won't come as much of a surprise that Tahiti isn't quite the "island paradise" it used to be, for losing that "paradise" seems to have become the general habit among the "unspoiled" islands these days.

But it's the future that's confusing.

What has been taking away Tahiti's charm is a steady influx of tourists, adventurers, and other invaders, according to Princess Teri Nui-o-Tahiti-Pomare. And what's needed, she announces to the press and her general public, is a radical program of social, economic, and administrative reforms. A reform program, she says, might restore some of the island's charm.

The princess announces also that she hopes to spend the rest of her days in California. Could it be that she's going to California to learn how to keep tourists at a distance? Scarcely.

Well, then, does the princess really want to keep the tourists out of Tahiti or not? If that reform program is going to restore the island's charm, how can it be construed as a measure to keep away charm-hungry tourists?

Oh, it must be just another publicity stunt. There must be a boosters' group behind it somewhere.—Or maybe two, one American.

"BOTTLED SUNLIGHT"

Boston.—(INS)—Bottled sunlight, aged in the rock two hundred million years.

That is what a coal fire is, according to Dr. Donald H. Hunt, geologist at Harvard University, who declared in a lecture at Boston university that energy in coal and petroleum came originally from the sun in the form of light.

Dog Sled Used by Eskimos to Reach Catholic Congress

Quebec, May 10.—(INS)—A 400 mile journey by dog-sled is being made by two Eskimo Catholics to reach Quebec in time for the National Catholic Congress, being held here in June.

The two left Chesterfield Inlet, in far northern waters, on April 27, for Churchill, Man., where they expect to arrive by June 1.

It will be the first time that the Eskimos will ever have traveled on a train, but they are looking forward to it, even though they will undoubtedly be surprised at warm weather, since there is ice for eleven months of the twelve in the vicinity of Chesterfield Inlet.

Rev. Father Ducharme, superior of the mission at Chesterfield Inlet, is the priest making the journey, while the two Eskimo Catholics are Jean Aymar and Alphonse Koutik.

It was projected to have an Eskimo family come to Quebec for the congress, but the spring break-up at Chesterfield Inlet, together with the fact that the Eskimos have no means of transport, has prevented that plan.

Science Shows Gardeners How to 'Can' Flowers

Ames, Ia., May 10.—(INS)—Canned flowers for the dinner table today was science's latest offer to amateur gardeners.

And the procedure of "canning" flowers entails less labor than that of growing green beans, according to Iowa State college botanists.

Pointing out that the freshness of flowers depends upon their maturity and physical condition, and using carnations as an example, the procedure was outlined as follows:

Water the flowers heavily the night preceding a day guaranteed by the almanac, the weather man, and the gods of gardeners to be sunny.

Then, the afternoon of that sunny day, cut the flowers fairly short-stemmed.

Seal them up in a common fruit jar or any other airtight container and place them in a refrigerator where the temperature is 33 to 35 degrees Fahrenheit.

The only young flowers, on the verge of opening or just barely opened.

A month later, carnations can be taken from the refrigerator as though just from the garden, and placed in water they will last as long.

Beard and Madonna lilies, treated to the same process, will keep only a few days, but they will look as new after three weeks.

Chrysanthemums, gladioli and sweet peas, but are usually presentable after three weeks to a month. The same is true of French marigolds, Ranunculus, larkspurs and gardenias can be kept for considerably more than a month.

Dentist Attacks Report of Third Set of Teeth

Chicago, May 10.—(INS)—Life was a tranquil thing for Eddy Jimmy Richards, 32, of Palestine, Ill., until he began to grow his third set of teeth.

For with the teeth came notoriety, and with notoriety Eddy Jimmy today was the target of biting contradiction from Dr. L. Pierce Anthony, associate editor of the American Dental Association Journal.

Dr. Anthony:

American 'Prince of Wales' is to Visit New York

Seattle, Wash., May 10.—(INS)—New Yorkers can begin saving up ticker tape with which to greet the American "Prince of Wales" when he visits the metropolis in May.

The Prince is a 37-year-old Canadian Indian. His father was Chief-tenaka but that was too much of a tongue twister for early white settlers of Port Townsend, Wash. so they named him the Duke of York. Because Chief-tenaka's wife also had a name at which white tongues balked, he became known as Victoria.

It naturally followed that when they had a son and named him Lamson, another difficult name for the whites to pronounce, the son became the Duke of Wales.

Wilbur Kendall, chairman of the Port Townsend Rhododendron Festival, wrote to New York to bid the home of the festival to be held in Wales, or the royal house of Clarendon.

Warns Against Marrying on 'Sex Attraction' Alone

London, May 10.—(INS)—Sex attraction is not a sufficient basis for marriage, according to the Rev. Arthur Herbert Gray, of St. Margaret's church, Louthbury, 1 London.

"It is a beautiful thing, one of the great gifts of God," he told a congregation of young men at St. Margaret's, "but it is not enough; you must have real friendship between two people of similar tastes, standards and reactions."

I am sure you cannot know of the enormous number of couples

CHINESE URGE AID OF LEAGUE AGAINST JAPAN

Asks Application of Provisions of the Covenant

SOVIETS HELP?

Geneva, May 10—(AP)—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the league of nations, asked the league council today to apply provisions of the covenant in giving China aid against Japan.

He cited two resolutions, one by the league assembly last October and another by the council in February, which recommended that league members consider individual aid to China.

"With one exception," he said, none of the league members had come to China's aid. He did not name the country which had supplied the help, but it was believed he referred to Soviet Russia.

"China expects to receive from other members the league material aid and effective cooperation in restraining the forces of aggression," he declared.

Anglo-Italian Agreement
Earlier British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax told the council that the recent Anglo-Italian agreement was a contribution to world peace, thereby aiding the cause for which the league was built.

The tall Briton was followed by France's foreign minister, Georges Bonnet, who echoed his words in defending the French-Italian agreement, still under negotiation.

The Spanish government delegate, Juan Alvarez Del Vayo, bitter over the Anglo-Italian agreement and French-Italian negotiations, talked of Italian and German aid to the insurgents in Spain's civil war in using the council as a sounding board for his cause.

At yesterday's secret session, Great Britain and France won assurances they would be freed of the league obligation not to recognize Italy's conquest of the African empire.

Decline Proposal

Delegates from Soviet Russia, China, New Zealand and Bolivia refused to back the proposal but other members agreed.

Alvarez Del Vayo already had been told before today's session that the league's official answer to Spain's complaint against foreign interference would be simply that the non-intervention committee was doing all that could be done.

The Chinese delegate, it was said, had little hope of getting sanctions against Japan.

Jurist Defends Himself Against Courtney Attack

Chicago, May 10—(UP)—Criminal Court Judge Robert Jerome Dunne today defended himself against State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's charge that he committed a miscarriage of justice in placing Charles J. Schmidt, Jr., 19, on two years' probation on a manslaughter conviction.

Judge Dunne said that if an identical case were presented to him, he would make the same decision.

Young Schmidt was convicted three weeks ago on a manslaughter charge growing out of the ambush death of his father's business partner, Edward C. Richard, 59, last Feb. 24. Judge Dunne placed the youth on probation last Friday.

"Under recent legislation," Courtney said in criticizing the judge's action, "our courts are empowered to grant probation in manslaughter cases. Certainly, however, such deliberate acts of violence that cause death should not go unpunished."

"Under the law we can do no more than object strenuously to what I consider a miscarriage of justice. However, if this case is to serve as a precedent, then I shall do my utmost to urge the legislature to take from the judges this new discretion in manslaughter cases."

Appellate Court Upholds the Fansteel Co. in CIO Sitdown

Ottawa, Ill., May 10—(UP)—The second Illinois appellate court, in a unanimous decision of the three Democratic judges, today asserted that the Wagner Labor Relations act does not protect sitdown strikes and upheld contempt of court convictions of 37 sitdown strikers and two organizers for the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The strikers and organizers were arrested by the Lake county sheriff 13 months ago for refusing to heed an injunction to surrender the plant of the Fansteel Metallurgical Corp. at North Chicago.

The plant had been closed by Illinois' first sitdown strike which ended when police and sheriff's deputies, employing a wooden "batle tower," mounted on a truck, fired hundreds of tear gas projectiles into the plant and drove the strikers out.

Lake County Convictions
The Lake county circuit court convicted those arrested and sentenced them to fines and jail terms for contempt. In upholding the fines and sentences, the appellate court asserted:

"There is nothing in the Wagner act which deals with the subject of violence or any illegal acts committed by employees in the course of industrial disputes and in our opinion congress did not by enactment of the Wagner act deprive the states of police powers to protect property rights or punish illegal acts committed in the course of labor disputes."

The court did not find merit in the contention of the attorneys for the strikers and organizers "that equity cannot now have jurisdiction over any phase of the relations between employers and employees in a labor controversy affecting interstate commerce."

The court said that remedies available to employers and employees in the courts prior to enactment of the Wagner act still are available "and we are of the opinion will continue to be."

"Because an employer refuses to bargain with its employees collectively does not justify those employees in their conduct of a strike in seizing the factory of their employer and without authority of any kind evict their foreman, barricade the doors and refuse to admit the owner to his own property and defy those whom they know to be officers charged by law to carry out the orders and decrees of a court."

The decision was written by Chief Justice Frank R. Dove of Shelbyville and concurred in by Associate Justices Blaine Huffman of Lawrenceville and Fred G. Wolfe of Quincy.

Upholds Punishments
The appellate court upheld the following punishments:

Meyer Adelman, organizer for the C. I. O.'s Steel Workers Organizing committee, $1,000 fine and 240 days in jail; Oakley Mills, S. W. O. C. organizer, $500 fine and 180 days; 24 sit-down strikers, $100 and 10 days; 11 sit-downers, $150 and 120 days; two sit-downers, $300 and 180 days.

The question of jurisdiction of the circuit court to issue the injunction against the sit-downers, raised by appellant's counsel in the appeal, was "apparently an afterthought," the opinion stated.

"The records show the question was not presented at any time for motion or argument."

In upholding the fine and jail term for Mills and Adelman, the judges said the organizers had "affirmatively and materially aided and abetted in continuing the violence under the preliminary injunction which they knew had been issued."

"They provided seasoned leadership and provisions which made it possible for those in the building to remain there for 10 days. Violence would probably never have occurred except for their counsel and their known resistance of judicial process."

Approximately 100 employees of the Fansteel company, manufacturer of tungsten, platinum and other rare metals, seized the $1,500,000 plant on Feb. 16, 1937, asserting that the company had refused to bargain with organizers for the SWOC whom they had chosen as bargaining representatives under the Wagner act.

The company immediately discharged the strikers, who barricaded themselves against police and sheriff's deputies. Fellow members of the Amalgamated Iron Steel and Tin Workers of North America, C. I. O. affiliate, provided them with blankets and food.

The company first warned the strikers to quit the plant, then obtained an injunction from circuit court which ordered the plant evacuated. When the strikers refused, the court issued body writs for the sit-downers and instructed Sheriff Ralph Doolittle to serve them.

The strikers fought off one attempt by deputies and police to oust them, hurling bottles of precious metals, nuts, bolts and tools from the shattered plant windows in reply to a barrage of tear gas bombs. But on Feb. 26 a truck bearing a tall wooden tower backed up to the two-story brick building in which most of the strikers were barricaded. Police thrust rapid-fire tear gas guns from splits and sprayed projectiles into the factory.

The strikers hurled acid and metal objects but finally were compelled to flee. Many were arrested as they tried to escape the police cordon.

Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan sentenced the strikers and organizers.

The company meantime was cited by the National Labor relations board for violation of the Wagner act and was ordered to rehire the strikers. It has appealed this order.

INSECTS ARE MADE HUNGRY BY USE OF STRONG ALCOHOL
Albuquerque, N. M., May 10—(INS)—Alcohol and some acids make insects hungry, Dr. J. R. Eyer of the New Mexico state college of agriculture has discovered.

When certain bacteria were present feeding moths going in appetites, Dr. Eyer reported to the convention of the southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting here at the University of New Mexico.

Object of the experiment, Dr. Eyer said, was to attempt isolation of the chemicals which cause hunger and thirst. The coddling moth was used as a convenient guinea pig, probably because of its well-known insatiable appetite.

The attractiveness of the various brews offered the moths was found to vary in proportion to the presence of absence of certain ferment producing bacteria.

SAYS MINTON BILL IS "HELL OF A LAW"
Springfield, Ill., May 10—(UP)—Gov. Henry Horner was on record today as opposed to the Minton bill pending in congress, as "a hell of a law. It violates the principles of democracy." He lauded newspapers as a symbol of democracy.

The governor's remarks were made in the course of an extemporaneous speech to the fourth annual convention of the Daily Newspaper League of Illinois.

"That's a hell of a law—that Minton bill," Horner said. "It is wrong basically. It violates the principles of democracy. It affects not only you, but it affects me. It affects everyone."

Horner lauded the press of the state and nation saying that when he wants news he gets it from the newspapers and that its criticism to him was the "mark of democracy."

"When I want the news I go to your journals," he said. "When I

Crop Insurance on Wheat for County
Crop insurance intended to guarantee insured wheat growers three-fourths of an average wheat crop in 1939 will cost farmers of Kankakee county an average of 1.17 bushels per acre, it was announced today by Willard Stewart, in charge of crop insurance.

For insurance that guarantees one-half of an average crop, the rate will average .09 bushel an acre, he said.

The county rates reflect the average per-acre loss in Kankakee county during the period of 1926-35. The premium an individual wheat grower will pay will depend half on the county rate and half upon the crop losses on his own farm. The rates for each farm will be computed in the branch office of the corporation.

The average yield an acre in the county during the 10-year period was 1.4 bushels. However, the cost of insurance is not based upon the average amount of yield but on the year-to-year variations in yield.

Two farmers with the same average yield would not necessarily pay the same premium for the same percentage coverage. Mr. Stewart stated, the farmer who suffered little crop loss would pay less than the farmer who suffered frequent and heavy losses, even though their average yields were the same.

Kankakee county rates will be available in the offices of all county AAA committees about which the county crop insurance program will center.

Each farm establishes its own premium rate. The low risk area in which Kankakee county is located does not have to help carry the load of an area of higher risk such as the "dust bowl" or semiarid districts.
